8/30/15	22:00	#1534	Gold Rush Days: Gold Rush Days returned to Old Sacramento over the extended Labor Day Weekend. In order to conserve water during the severe and ongoing drought, the streets of Old Sacramento will not be covered with dirt as in years past. However, dirt will cover one street – J between Front & 2nd -- to allow for the popular Pony Express horses and riders along with select performances that require the softer surface. Recycled water was used for the final clean up. Guests: Sidney Scheideman and Chris McSwain
9/6/15	22:00	#1535	Sac Horsemen: Sacramento Horsemen's Association was established to encourage and promote horseback riding, facilitate the sharing of information about horses, and foster a spirit of good fellowship among its members. Their 14 acre facility provides the greater Sacramento area with opportunities to ride scenic trails, board a horse, ride in either of two arenas, attend horse shows, hold special events in the clubhouse, or enjoy a picnic. Guest: Janice Bachelor
9/13/15	22:00	#1536	Keep Your Home California: California was designated as one of 18 "hardest hit" states due to high unemployment rates and steep home price decline. The Hardest Hit Fund, provided by the federal government, provides aid to families in these 18 states. California was awarded nearly $2 billion in funds to help eligible California homeowners avoid preventable foreclosures. Guest: Steve Gallagher
9/20/15	22:00	#1537	All About Equine: Founded in 2009 by folks who were heartbroken to see large numbers of horses being neglected, abandoned, or sent to auction/slaughter. They turned a small ranchette into a working horse facility, and in June 2009, the concept became a reality when the first two slaughter-bound mare/foal pairs were brought in from a foreign-owned slaughterhouse
